A lifelong Hoosier, Sen. Andrea Hunley moved to Indianapolis after graduating from Indiana University to pursue her first teaching job. For two decades, she served in public schools as a teacher and school principal.

Originally from Fort Wayne, Sen. Hunley was in the foster care system and adopted at a young age. Supporting our vulnerable children and families is a priority for her.

Elected in 2022, Indiana State Senator Andrea Hunley represents portions of the city of Indianapolis. Senator Hunley now serves as the Assistant Leader for the Senate Democratic Caucus. She is on the Utilities, Commerce & Technology, Education, Pensions & Labor, Tax & Fiscal Policy, Ethics, and Rules committees. Senator Hunley is passionate about legislation that has a generational impact on the health and wealth of individuals and communities.

Senator Hunley lives on the Near Eastside with her husband and their two school-aged children. Outside of the Statehouse, she enjoys biking and exploring the art and music events in Indianapolis.
